THREE IN JAIL ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Luther Butts and Charley Barrett
Arrested After Bennett Confessed to City Marshal.

TELL OF OTHER ROBBERIES

Have Been Holding up Men Right and Left—Partial List of the Victims.

Three young men are now in the Rush county jail with a charge of highway robbery against them. They are Fred Bennett, Charley Barrett and Luther Butts. The latter two were arrested by City Marshal Price about six o'clock last night and lodged in jail. They were arrested after Bennett, the first one taken into custody, to make a confession. Bennett was arrested for the hold-up of John Dyke, Tuesday night. He realized he was up against it as Dyke identified him. Bennett feels that he is being made the "goat" for the gang that has been working unmo- lested for several months and has now agreed to plead guilty on a charge of robbery and made a clean breast of the operation of the gang provided he is dealt with leniently. He says that on account of his re- form school record the others were seemingly forgotten and that every- body was turning against him.

From the lips of Bennett has come many startling stories, implicating a gang who did not stop at anything to rob people. He says he is going to tell the truth and that everyone who ever took part in a hold-up that he has any knowledge of may expect to be arrested.

Barrett was arrested when Bennett told how they held up Tom Lucas, a farmer living near Gings, about three weeks ago. The robbery oc- curred near the Graham school build- ing. They took some money and a gold watch from Lucas. He was in an intoxicated condition and could offer but little resistance. City Mar- shal Price has recovered the watch, as it was found on Bennett's person when he was arrested. Barrett is also said to be implicated in other robberies.

Bennett said that he and Luther Butts held up John Moore of Ar- lington a few days ago in the alley near the postoffice and got four dol- lars from him. Bennett said Moore put up a fight and was besting Butts when he took a hand. Moore's pock- ets were torn open, so desperate did Butts struggle to get the money.

Last Saturday night Bert Beaver was held up near the mill race in South Main street, by Bennett and Butts and four dollars in money tak- en from him. They stepped out from behind a building and grabbed Bea- ver, pinning his arms about his body, while one of them went through his pockets and took his money. Sev- eral other robberies were confessed by Bennett and the officers will make other arrests within a day or two. Two fellows, whose shoes began to pinch, have left the city, but their whereabouts are known and if evi- dence can be secured against them they will be brought back.

City Marshal Price has spent every hour of the past two days—and part of the night—running down clues and is determined to break up the gang.

At this stage it is well that a word of commendation be said for the of- ficer. Had it not been for Price no arrests would have been made. In him, as an officer, Rushville can well feel proud, for it has not yet been said about him that he feared any living man and when he goes out af- ter a fellow, no matter how bad his reputation may be, the officer will not stop at anything to return with his man. The detective force of a large city could not have done better work than the city marshal on this case, for an arrest, a confession, and two subsequent arrests in three days is quite an enviable record.

TAX DODGERS NUMEROUS

Assessor's Returns Exemplify Old Adage.

"Poor but honest" isn't always true of all poor men, but the as- ses- sor's reports seem to indicate that the poor man is far more likely to list a greater proportion of his prop- erty than the rich man.

Statistics prove that in the general listing of all taxable property there is an equality so common that it can no longer be considered surprising.

VALUABLE BIRD DOG IS POISONED

Canine of Llewellen Breed Valued at $200.00, Belonging to Charles
Wright is Dead.

PARENTS BROUGHT HIGH PRICE

Charles Wright of North Julian street lost a fine bird dog Wednesday evening, valued at $200.00. The father and mother of the canine once sold for $2500.00. The dog was a full-blooded Llewellen and is consid- ered one of the finest bred of the dog type. It is thought that the canine was poisoned.

NEW TRACTION NOT ALL A MYTH

Surveyors Are at Work North of Carthage on Proposed Line
From Rushville.

ANXIOUS FOR AN INTERURBAN

County Auditor Stone Has Talked
With Some of the Promoters.
Were Here Saturday.

Now, there might be something in that Rushville-NewCastle interurban line after all. Here is what the Car- thage Citizen says of it today:

"The latest interurban talk about here is that a new company has in view a line from Shirley to Rushville by way of Raysville, the S. & S. O. Home and Carthage. Three men walked from Rushville through here Saturday looking over the ground and it is said four surveyors are now engaged on the north of us and may reach here next week. It is reported an Eastern company has agreed to finance the road pending favorable reports from surveyors. County Auditor J. M. Stone has talked with some of the parties and they seem anxious to come to Carthage. And we are anxious for an interurban. This is different from anything yet proposed. The committee appointed some months ago is still waiting de- velopments along another line."

HE WAS NOT THAT "KIND."

Charles Vail, who formerly work- ed on a Rushville paper, is now preaching in California. By years of untiring labor in the vineyard and self sacrifice he may yet be able to atone for his early discretion.

NOAH RHODES' NARROW ESCAPE

Rush County Farmer Had Thrilling Experience in Runaway at Knightstown.

HORSE BECAME FRIGHTENED

Ran Four Blocks, Fell Down and Was Injured, But Driver Remained Unhurt.

Noah Rhodes, a well known Rush county farmer, had an experience in a runaway here Saturday afternoon a few moments after 2 o'clock that he will not wish to repeat, says the Knightstown Banner.

At the Brown street crossing of the Big Four railroad, the big farm horse he was driving became fright- ened at a train and started to run away. Mr. Rhodes is a frail man and could not manage the animal, and to make his chance of holding the horse less, the harness was broken and be- came disarranged. The horse came east on Brown street at a mad rate of speed, and when he reached the public square he turned, but not until he had reached the Washington street side. The rig skidded to the curbing at the east side in front of McGraw's harness shop and buggy repository, the horse slipped upon the cement pavement and fell flat, rest- ing upon his right side. Then it was found he had thrust his foot into a pine box that stood against the side of the building and when his foot was extracted and one of the buggy shafts was liberated that had passed between the spokes in the wheel of a new buggy in front of McGraw's place, the horse was in a position to be raised to his feet.

Four spokes were smashed in the left hind wheel of Rhodes' buggy this being about the only damage done to his rig. The horse was not hurt, but the harness was badly broken and gave evidence of having seen better days. A new buggy belonging to Mr. McGraw was slightly damaged in the mix-up.

Mr. Rhodes was unharmed and af- ter the horse fell upon the pavement, rendering himself helpless for the time, Mr. Rhodes stepped from the buggy. The first words he uttered were: "I am glad my family was not with me." He was somewhat fright- ened, but did not lose his head. It is a wonder that he came out of the runaway without being injured.

THOMPSON DAMAGE SUIT

Will be Heard This Term—Suing
Cemetery For $5200.

Another interesting case that will come up during the May term of the Fayette circuit court, says the Con- nersville Examiner will be that of James A. Thompson against the Rushville Cemetery Association, a case coming here on a change of venue. The suit is an action for $5000 damages.

Mr. Thompson, while walking through the cemetery, walked over a foot bridge. The bridge gave way and Mr. Thompson fell, sustaining a broken ankle. Negligence on the part of the association is charged.

INSPECTED THE HOME.

Spiceland, May 20.—The commis- sioners of Henry and Rush counties held a joint meeting here today and inspected the Orphan's Home, which is maintained jointly by the two counties. The six officials enjoyed an excellent dinner served at noon by Mrs. Bundy, the matron.

BIG SENSATION AT GREENSBURG

Costly Clothing of Woman Found in Shed in Fashionable Residence District.

TELL -TALE CIRCUMSTANCES

Label Cut off Shoes to Baffle the Finders—Arouses Widespread Speculation.

Greensburg is very much agitated over what has the appearance of the murder of an unknown woman in the fashionable resident district of the city. The Greensburg Review says in part of a most peculiar disclosure:

Has a foul crime been committed in Greensburg?

Are the details of the Pearl Bryan tragedy to be repeated in this city in all their gruesome awfulness?

Has the life of some young woman been offered up on the altar of lust in this community?

These and a hundred other kindred questions were suggested late Wed- nesday afternoon when in an out- building in the fashionable part of aristocratic Franklin street a full complement of woman's wearing ap- parel was found.

The articles consisted of a dress of stylish fabric, underwear of mod- ish texture, an almost new straight- front corset, a pair of silk hose of fine quality and extra length—in short a complete outfit, such as any well dressed lady might be attired in.

There was also a pair of shoes in the collection.

And the maker's name and dealer's cost mark had been cut from the shoes!

This fact was sufficient to arouse in the minds of those who have seen the clothing many speculations as to the fate of the fair owner.

Was she enticed into the place and murdered and her body made away with?

Or was the crime committed at a distant point and the body taken to a place of concealment while the wearing apparel was placed where it was, in the hope that the crime might be covered up for a time at least?

If a crime has been committed, where is the red-handed perpetrator—where is the victim?

Here is an opportunity for a bit of the best detective work ever done in Greensburg.

As the circumstances are contem- plated the hideousness of the death of Sarah Shafer at Bedford and Pearl Bryan near Fort Thomas stands vividly forth.

The cutting of the maker's name and dealer's cost mark from the shoes is a most significant feature of the mystery. This would only be done in an effort to frustrate detec- tion, and this fact alone—if there were no collateral suspicious circum- stances—is enough to arouse the gravest apprehensions as to the fate of the woman who wore the clothing.

That the clothes were found where they were—in a part of the city that is exceptionally well lighted, near a principal street and in the heart of the residence portion—is another fact that arouses greater interest and deepens the mystery in the minds of those familiar with the surroundings.

From all the evidence at hand it seems that something happened.

Let the officers be on the alert.

Let every citizen do a little quiet detective duty.

Let every possible effort be made to ferret out the owner of the cloth- ing.

Let the victim—if there was a vic- tim—be discovered.

Let the perpetrator be apprehend- ed.

Let the mystery of the clothing be solved.

NATURE STILL IN LEAD

The Good Old Way is the Only Way.

It is pretty hard to beat nature. For a few years it seemed that the proverbial "settin' hen" was to be put out of business by the incubator. But now comes the department of agriculture with the evidence of in- exorable facts to vindicate mother hen and show that "the good old way" of raising chickens is after all the best and most profitable.

JURY DISAGREES IN WOLF DAMAGE SUIT

Second Time Case Has Been Tried in Local Courts With the Same Result.

FOUR JURORS FOR PLAINTIFF

The jury in the Wolfe damage suit came in yesterday evening without a verdict. This is the second time that the case has been tried in the local courts with the same result. The jurors could not all arrive at the same opinion as four of them were in favor of giving the plaintiff damages against the Big Four railroad and the remaining eight stood out resolutely for the defendant. The case will probably be tried again.

GOLD FOUND ON A FARM NEAR MILROY

Lon Harcourt Discovers a Fine Gold
Band Ring While Rolling a Field.

JEWELRY IS "ROLLED GOLD"

Lon Harcourt, a well-to-do farmer living between Milroy and Moscow found a valuable gold band ring the other day while working on his farm says the Greensburg News. He was rolling a forty acre field and was riding along in about the middle of the field when his attention was at- tracted to something lying on the up- turned turf a short distance away.

The sun's ray striking the object caused it to flash and sparkle in such a manner that Lon stopped to inves- tigate and for his trouble picked up a heavy gold band ring. To his knowledge no one around his place ever lost a ring, and he has come to the conclusion that it was evidently dropped by some one when crossing the field.

FARMERS LOOKING GLOOMY

Afraid J. Pluvius Has "Showered"
Too Many Blessings on Them.

The farmers are beginning to wear long faces as a result of the rains. A little rain, like a little learning, is a dangerous thing, but too much rain is still more dangerous. The early rains were good for wheat but the recent rains have stopped the work of corn planting and in the clay ground but little corn is in. If this weather keeps on the corn crop is going to be decid- edly short in Rush county.

The first sleeping car was started over the tracks in 1858.

THOUGHT HE WAS STEEL MAGNATE

People of Seymour Suffered Severe
Brainstorm When They Saw Ball.

THE WHISTLING BOOK AGENT

Who Was Here Only Recently—Resembles Much the Great Steel Magnate.

Here indeed is a funny article for the people of Rushville. Hardly any person living here but who remember seeing a book agent that looked for the world like Andrew Carnegie and who spent four or five weeks here recently. The Daily Republican published a story at the time regard- ing the close resemblance. The fel- low was a happy-go-lucky individual named W. W. Ball of Indianapolis and he represented the McClure Pub- lishing Co., of New York City.

The Columbus Republican pub- lishes the story and with it one from the Seymour Democrat, who evident- ly "bit" when the ever laughing, joking and whistling Mr. Ball gave them an interview. The Republican says:

Someone "doped" the Seymour Democrat as to the identity of "the famous steel magnate and philan- thropist." Andrew Carnegie is in Italy hobnobbing with King Victor Emanuel, consequently he could not have been in Seymour Saturday af- ternoon, unless there are two of him or he is an uncommonly swift trav- eler. A man would have to be going some to be in Seymour, Ind., Satur- day and in Rome, Italy, on the fol- lowing Monday.

A dispatch from Rome, appearing in this paper Monday, read:

"One of the most cordial recep- tions ever accorded an American was given today by King Victor Emanuel and Queen Helena to Andrew Car- negie and wife."

The chances are the Seymour Democrat saw "the whistling book agent" Saturday, who, while he may not have at all times the ready cash that "the Laird of Skibo" is credited with, certainly is as happy and has as much fun, some of which he gains from experiences brought about by his resemblance to the library giver.

The following is the story in ques- tion, from the Seymour Democrat: "Andrew Carnegie, the famous steel magnate and philanthropist, was in the city a short time Satur- day afternoon. Mr. Carnegie was on aboard a B. & O. Southwestern train No. 2 while enroute to the east from French Lick springs, where he has been spending a few days. Mr. Car- negie made possible by his donations Seymour's handsome public library, as well as many other libraries and educational institutions in various cities of this country. All his wealth was gained by his own efforts, as he started in life a comparatively poor man and gradually worked his way to the top."

She is Accused of Spreading Typhoid Fever And is Ordered Out

WILL BE BARRED FROM HOME

State Board of Health Has Made a Ruling Against Her and She Must Go.

When Madam Housefly and her family arrive, within a few days, if the weather man lets up, the members will find that the State Board of Health has barred the doors of some of their favorite stopping places, and that they will be compelled to do their summer boarding for the most part out of doors, especially if the board is able to induce the people of the State to work in harmony with its rules and the new health law placed on the books since Mrs. Housefly's last sojourn.

Mrs. Housefly's past record as a summer boarder is wholly responsible for the activities of the State Board to make her coming less welcome this year. She has been condemned on a charge of spreading typhoid fever germs and raising the annual death rate of the State from this disease. She has been accused of infecting with various disease germs the food as it was being prepared in the food manufacturing establishments, as it was reposing in food stores for distribution, as it was resting on the kitchen table preparatory to the final process at the hands of the housewife, and even while it was on the dining table. She has lost her former host of friends who maintained that she should be welcomed annually because she was the prize scavenger without whose assistance pestilence would rule.

STRIKE BLOW AT CHARITY GRAFTER

Richmond Organization Will Take Precautions Against "Symphy Game."

LIST OF THE CHARITY CASES

More frequent reports will be made by the different agencies of the Council of Charities, in the future, says the Richmond Palladium, according to plans made yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. chapel. In this manner, a line may be kept by each society on all charity patients and what the different organizations are doing for them. There are a number of poor persons who graft at the expense of the different agencies of charity.

The council secretary will receive a report from each branch of the council each month, in which will be shown the kind of aid given and to whom it was given. The agency will in return be notified by the secretary what the other agencies are doing.

WOMAN'S BEAUTY.

It Comes Only to Those Who Take Care of Their Hair.

Have you seen a pretty face with regular features, clear skin, pearly teeth and plenty of animation and vivacity, and yet remarked that there was something lacking that really made the individual less charming than her sister of plainer possessions? A moment's study of such a face will show you that it is a want of luxuriant hair which makes the difference.

The woman who wishes to retain her youth must look after her hair—the woman with scant, unattractive hair is never admired.

Society women realize the truth of this statement and that is why so many of New York's loveliest women demand that Parisian Sage be used by their hair dressers.

Parisian Sage is now on sale in nearly every town of consequence in America, and has enormous sales wherever it has been introduced.

It is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co. to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It will make any woman's harsh and unattractive hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is the ideal, delightful, rejuvenating tonic that makes hair grow; it is not sticky or greasy, but on the other hand is most pleasant and daintily perfumed.

THE CHARGES AGAINST FRANK GOULD PROVEN

Court Grants Long-Fought Divorce to Mrs. Gould.

New York, May 21.—Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Frank J. Gould, by Justice Gerard in the supreme court. The decision was rendered on the report of Edward G. Whitaker, as referee, who decided that charges made against Gould had been proven.

Mr. Gould is allowed the sole custody of the two children of the marriage, Helen Margaret and Dorothy Gould, from December to April, both inclusive and the defendant may have them from May to November, subject to certain modifications. The defendant is held responsible for the education of the two children and also for their medical attendance.

No provision is made for alimony for Mrs. Gould, nor is the name of any co-respondent mentioned by her referred to. The Goulds were married in this city on December 2, 1901. Mrs. Gould is a daughter of the late Eugene Kelly, the banker, and is wealthy in her own right, having inherited a large fortune from her father.

IN NO DANGER

Passengers on Imprisoned Steamer Have Safe Avenue of Escape.

St. Johns, N. F., May 21.—Notwithstanding efforts to assist her, the African line steamer Mongolian, which has been wedged in an ice pack off the mouth of this harbor since Wednesday, is still imprisoned. It is thought an attempt by the stout sealing steamer Diana to open up a lane between the Mongolian and the narrow harbor opening will be successful. The passengers are in no danger, some of them having successfully crossed the ice field between the liner and shore, assuring the others that a ready and fairly safe avenue of escape is available.

It Was Too Much For Her. Fordche, La., May 21.—Adeline Hawkins, a negress of this place, was literally frightened to death last night by the powerful searchlight of the battleship Mississippi on its way up the river to Natchez. "It is the judgment light," she exclaimed and then fell dead.

PRESIDENT NOT MERE DREAMER

Taft Declares he Sees no Signe of a Political Revolution on the South.

WHAT WE ARE ON THE EVE OF

The Complete Tolerance of Political Opinion is Coming—Respect in Fighting Opposition.

Chicago, May 21.—State's Attorney Wayman has finished the presentation of direct testimony against "Skinny" Madden et al., charged with conspiracy to extort money in the settlement of strikes. Witnesses told of a strike which was settled for $1,500 and of another which cost but $200.

The latter strike was called, it is alleged, on a building being constructed by Samuel Grossman who, it was stated, had complied with all requirements of the unions concerned but whose workmen nevertheless were called off.

Solomon L. Lowenthal, Grossman's attorney, was placed on the witness stand. Following a demand for $200 to settle the strike, he and his client, he said, called on F. A. Pouchot, who, with M. J. Boyle, is a co-defendant in the case.

"We found him in a little room in a saloon," said the witness, "and I inquired why he had asked for money from Mr. Grossman. He looked hard at us a moment, and then said he was not fool enough to talk to both of us. Then he walked away."

"The next day I went to see Madden. He took me to a small room under the stairs of the saloon and I handed him $200. He slapped me on the shoulder and said that work would be resumed on the building the next day."

Mr. Grossman followed Mr. Lowenthal and corroborated the testimony of the latter. The introduction of various agreements and other documents, together with their identification by witnesses, completed the state's case.

The principal address will be made by President Taft. An address will be made by Secretary Dickinson in case his health will permit.

GOT HIM TO RIGHTS

Fugitive Ohio Convict Thought to Be Hiding in Sewer.

Columbus, O., May 21.—The penitentiary officials feel sure they have located Johnson, the fugitive prisoner, in a sewer beneath the prison. From this there is no escape, because the sewer can be guarded. Some years ago a prisoner hiding out, remained in a sewer forty-eight days and then when drawn forth was unconscious and died within a few days. Van A. Reynolds, a prisoner serving five years from Cleveland for burglary, tried to escape as did Johnson, last night. He was captured and confessed he was in a plot with Johnson, but believed it was to be pulled off last night instead of the night before.

Shot From Ambush.

Vicksburg, Miss., May 21.—G. T. Bishop ambushed and killed Joe Hutchinson at Moorehead, in Sunflower county. Hutchinson, his mother and sister were in a room at his home when Bishop concealed himself in darkness outside and fired four times with a double barreled shot-gun. The divorced wife of Bishop, was in another room. Bishop was arrested and says that domestic trouble caused the tragedy.

The new pongee ribbon in dashy designs is intended not so much for hat decoration as for women's neckties.

Mixtures of grays and browns with deep tones are still, as in winter, among the very popular fabrics.

Blouses, almost without exception, are being chosen to match the gowns with which they are to be worn.

The snow frills in sleeves and down the fronts, at wrists and jabots are to be very smart this spring.

Chamois colored mocha gloves of very soft quality in eight-button lengths are quite fashionable.

A willow hour glass tabourette for the summer living room is quite the thing.

Two of the prettiest shades of millinery are argent, a demurely soft silver, and alezan, a chestnut brown with a suspicion of pink in it.

Crepé weaves are growing in favor. They have appeared not only in cotton and lisle threads, but have extended to wools and silks.

Hatpins are enormous about the head and terrifically long about the pin necessarily, with hats the size they are now.

A new feature in collar and cuffs are those made of gold ribbon edged with a narrow frill of embroidered batiste or valenciennes lace.

Odd yet most attractive for a tailored waist is a belt of roughly woven linen with a design worked in dark colors.

Spring costumes show a great deal of embroidery and braid, the latter appearing in odd patches in unusual places.

Graduation gowns will be practically all of the princess shape.

Many of the attractive trimmings show a touch of gold or silver.

Cluny is a happier combination with linen than with lawn, though Irish chochet is entirely unrestricted and may adorn a ball gown or a morning tub frock with equal success.

With the long sleeve has appeared the new loose chain bracelet with pendant of artistic design which falls loosely over the sleeve.

Billikin belts have found much favor among tasty dressers.

AUTO BRINGS THE MARKET NEARER

Figures Points to Fact That Machine is Gradually Becoming Farmer's Implement.

AND MILLIONAIRE'S TOY
Factories Are Continually Changing—Many Carriage Houses Now Building Machines.

A very interesting article by Hugh S. Fullerton appears in a recent number of Collier's Outdoor America. His article is lengthy and deals with the revolution that the automobile is bringing to American life. After giving figures showing an astonishing increase in the number of autos bought by the farmers in the last year or two, he says, in part:

"The figures mean that the automobile is becoming the farmer's implement as well as the millionaire's toy. The farmer is not imbued with any speed mania or desire for display of wealth; he simply thinks he has found a good thing. The automobile has come to him as a triple benefit, first socially; second, as a speedy means of reaching and keeping in touch with the market; third, as a handy power machine. To the community at large the auto-farmer has become an active good roads advocate.

"The extent to which the farmers are adopting the automobile is shown by these figures: Twenty-one wagon and carriage factories in Indiana and Illinois and five in Iowa (perhaps I overlooked some) are turning their shafts into steering wheels and manufacturing high-wheel, stump straddling automobiles."

REPRESENTATIVES THREE BRANCHES

To Constitute Board of Control to Manage State Odd Fellows Home.

ONE FROM EACH BRANCH

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows Wednesday in Indianapolis, the matter of the incorporation of the State Home in this city was the principal one presented says the Greensburg News.

Under the new article of incorporation for the home it will be managed by a board of control to consist of one representative from each of the three branches—the Grand Lodge, the Grand Encampment and the Rebekah Assembly. The members of this board of control will be appointed by the presiding officers of the three branches. The president of the Rebekah Assembly will be an ex-officio member of the board and its nominal head.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CLERK.

We are authorized to announce the name of Herbert C. Flint for Clerk of the city of Rushville, subject to the decision of the Republican nominating convention.

Gov. Johnson intimates that Col. Bryan is a political joke. Wait until 1912 and the colonel will have some fun with the ambitious Swede.

After all, there is just this about politics—it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be. It is a fight between the down-and-outs and the up-and-ins.

Through the price of bread is being raised everywhere a report comes that diamonds are becoming cheaper. So there's a chance to secure at least, one luxury.

Years ago there was a large emigration from Germany, but this has practically ceased. The number emigrating in 1908 was 19,883, the lowest in thirty years.

Mr. Roosevelt has begun writing the first of his magazine articles for publication. At a dollar a word his experiences with the animals he has already met ought to reimburse him for the expenses of his trip. The hapless varmints yet to come are to be clear profits.

Congressional appropriation bills have of late years been euphonicly designated as pork barrels. This designation is not exactly elegant. It might, in view of recent developments in the senate, be fittingly extended to tariff schedules. Hogs are certainly in evidence—very much so, indeed.

When the next census is taken Indiana will be divided into thirteen districts, with 2,200 enumerators. The enumerators are to be allowed two cents a name. In addition to this the city enumerator will be allowed for taking the census of factories, and the rural enumerator from fifteen to twenty cents for farms. The average enumerator will be able to make ignition is certainly expressive, if it perts will run up as high as $5 a day.

In speaking of the receivership of the Noblesville Democrat, the Connersville News adds the following:

It is understood the stockholders will not only lose all they put into the enterprise, but will be obliged to make good, by assessments, a deficit in the affairs of the company.

It is always easy to get into "company" but not so easy to get out. Probably if a "company" of trained newspaper men undertook to run a stock farm or a blacksmith shop or a store they would fail just as those men trained in other things than newspaper work have done. Yet the newspaper line is perhaps a greater cure for men with little ready money and no experience, than any other. They generally get enough experience in a short time to last them through life, but they are at the same time apt to lose interest as well as cash, in the business, and get out of it any way they can.

The tariff is a decidedly practical question, and the people want to see their representatives treat it as a business affair. Conditions and theories are what the country expects Congress to deal with in this matter. It now looks as though this week will exhaust all the heavy oratory on the tariff, and votes on the various paragraphs of the bill, and such short talks as they may incite, will be the rule henceforth to the end of the session. If this expectation should be realized the country will be glad. In the talk after this week the country may reasonably look for actualities and not abstractions. Evidently the measure will be a tariff bill of the orthodox character. It will restrict itself to the customs schedules. No internal revenue features will be incorporated in it. There will be no income tax. Powerful pressure will be brought to bear on the Senate to complete its work without any unnecessary delay, and there is still some hope that it may be placed in Mr. Taft's hands by the Fourth of July, at the latest.

Abe Martin Says

Abe Martin says today: "Miss Fawn Lippincott has sent th' followin' recipe t' a newspaper: Buy a gig saw an' a one-hoss gasoline engine, when boil a egg ten minutes an' let it get cold, then saw it in two an' give one-half t' th' canary bird an' dig th' other half out with a oyster fork, then bore a hole in th' end with a diamond pointed drill an' you've got a handy funnel fer fillin bottles. Marion papers please copy. Lafa Bud is back from his vacation an' has gone t' French Lick fer a rest."

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

A FREAK POTATO.

(Carthage Citizen.)

Thomas Miner brought a freak potato to this office Monday. While hoeing potatoes that morning he unearthed a new potato growing on a sprout of an old one. The new tuber was about the size of a marble. There was nothing on top of the ground to indicate any vegetable activity. The potatoes are of the Early Rose variety. Several years ago Mr. Miner had a like experience with Little Reds.

THE ETERNAL QUESTION.

(Shelbyville Republican.)

A Jeffersonville girl had a proposal of marriage on Sunday night and asked a week to think it over. She went to all her married sisters. One, who used to be the belle, had three children and did all her own work and hadn't been to the theater or out riding since she was married. Another, whose husband was a promising young man at the time she was married, was supporting him. A third didn't dare say her life was her own when her husband was around, and a fourth was divorced. After visiting them and hearing their woes, the heroine of this little tale went home, got pen, ink and paper and wrote an answer to the young man. You may think it was refusing him, but it wasn't. She said she could be ready in a month.

THE MOTHER INSTINCT.

(Shelbyville Democrat.)

Teddy Roosevelt is in Africa, entirely oblivious of the work of the newspapers in America, hence the Democrat takes a chance on publishing a local story which sounds very much like what the terrible Teddy calls a "nature fake."

A few days ago a painter was working at the home of Mrs. Nancy Moore at the corner of Polk and Worth streets. The artist of the brush left a bucket with two or three inches of white paint in it. A young robin just trying the strength of his wings fluttered around and fell head first into the bucket. There were robin-screams and many wild kicks as young robin floundered around in the sticky white bucket. His mother observed his predicament and flying to the scene of danger alighted on a paddle that was standing in the bucket. Seizing her offspring by the feathers at the top of his head she pulled him from his perilous position.

She got him into the yard. Then Mrs. Moore observed the young Red-breast, now a painful mixture of red and white. She captured him and took him into the house, where she washed the paint off him. Then she again put him out in the yard. Dame Robin was hanging around and as soon as she observed her adventurous fledgling she flew to him and again seizing him by the top-knot sailed off with him through the atmosphere.

Resolutions of Respect

Resolutions of Respect of The Band of Workers of the Presbyterian church on the death of Mrs. John Buell.

Whereas the hand of Providence has removed our sister from the scenes of her temporal labors, and in view of the loss we have sustained and the still greater loss of those nearest and dearest to her.

Resolved, that in her death our society has lost a faithful member in the Master's vineyard, while she was sorely afflicted unable to labor with us her words of cheer and willingness to give of her means to the uplift of the Master, will long be cherished by this society.

Resolved, that we bow in submission to the allwise One knowing she has passed from death to life Eternal in the presence of the Savior whom she loved and honored by her patient life.

STATISTICS OF THE GRAND ARMY

Figures Relating to Indiana's "Boy in Blue"—Work of Relief During the Year.

PRESENT STRENGTH OF POSTS

Long Line of Vets Has Bann Reduced to 15,195 Distributed in 373 Posts.

Crawfordsville, Ind., May 21.—With the business session of the Indiana department, G. A. R. in progress today, it seems to be a tossup between Col. Chester G. Thompson, of Lafayette, and O. A. Somers, of Kokomo, for department commander. It is likewise a tossup between South Bend and Terre Haute for the 1910 encampment. Northern Indiana veterans are pulling for South Bend, while those from southern Indiana wish Terre Haute to get the next encampment. Many badges bearing the inscription "Terre Haute, 1910," and "South Bend, 1910," are worn.

Mrs. Alice S. Pike of Danville was elected department president by the W. R. C.

The ladies of the G. A. R. elected Mrs. Elvira Cassel of Westpoint president.

Although it was known the Women's Relief Corps would be pleased to hear of action taken by the Ladies of the G. A. R. looking to their amalgamation with the larger organization, it is hardly expected this will be done. The Ladies of the G. A. R. was formed in 1886, as a result of dissatisfaction among members of the W. R. C., which was admitting any loyal woman into its ranks and not confining membership to women having blood relation with old soldiers. The Ladies of the G. A. R. was formed by those, who, pulling away from the parent organization, apparently do not care to rejoin now.

Gas From Pocket Ignited. Petersburg, Ind., May 21.—At a depth of 300 feet the drillers at well No. 5 on Morse Skinner's farm, ten miles south of here, struck a strong pocket of gas. The gas became ignited from a furnace, where tools were being dressed, inside the derrick and the derrick and machinery were destroyed. The gas is still burning and the heat is too great for the drillers to cap the well. The outfit belonged to the Thaler Drilling company, which estimates its loss at $2,000.

Mrs. Doggemant Dies From Injuries. Terre Haute, Ind., May 21.—Mrs. Doggemant, who was shot by Francis Doggemant, a French miner, at Shelby, when he also killed his brother-in-law and himself, is dead at St. Anthony's hospital.

INDIANA POLITICS

ROBERT G. TUCKER.

Indianapolis, May 21.—Governor Marshall won a high place in the estimation of the health officers of Indiana when in his address of welcome at the session of the Indiana health officers' school he declared that the old adage, "Cleanliness is next to godliness," might be properly changed to "Cleanliness is essential to godliness."

Anyhow, there was no lack of applause when the governor gave expression to this sentiment. The attendance at the health officers' school has reached more than two hundred and it is expected more than three hundred will attend the meeting before it is ended. Dr. George T. MacCoy, president of the Indiana State Board of Health, presided.

"I am glad," said the governor "to greet the health officers in this city. What we all wish is the highest grade of citizenship. We wish to see the man with the sound body and the sound mind. I believe health has as much to do with the morals of the people as laws or religion. I have my doubts about the regeneration of the filthy man."

"It has long been a question as to whether inebriety is the result of poverty or whether poverty is the result of inebriety, and the question has not yet been settled. Good health means good citizenship and good government. I am not the man who turns up his nose at the great scientist or the great surgeon. Marked progress has been made in recent years in preventive medicine and surgery."

"For my part, I would rather give money for the prevention of disease than to give it for the punishment of criminals who have been brought low by a lack of knowledge of the laws of health. As a matter of fact, a great many men believe they are sinful when they are merely bilious."

"Gentlemen, do not be tradesmen in your profession, seeking to make dollars and cents out of the gifts with which you have been so liberally endowed. Lift your profession above dollars and cents and make the state cleanly and you will have cut off 50 per cent. of crime."

FOLLOWED HIM OVER

Syrian Comes to America to Gratify a Blood Feud.

Port Wayne, Ind., May 21.—Salamon Senoier, was shot and killed by Dorgan Faris Riszk. Senoier came to Port Wayne to visit a half brother, George Lufi, at whose home the shooting occurred. Riszk came here two weeks ago from Losantville, Ind. All of the trio are Syrians, and Riszk declares that the shooting was the result of an old country feud.

Riszk says both he and Senoier came from a town about fifty miles from Damascus. He says Senoier shot three Turks there. In the number was Riszk's cousin, and since then Riszk has been trailing Senoier with the intention of avenging his cousin's death. Riszk declares that before he shot Senoier the latter threatened him, declaring that he would send him the way he sent his cousin. Riszk is now in jail.

Terre Haute Voting Today

Terre Haute, Ind., May 21.—Little less intense and exciting than the preliminaries to a general election has been the canvass for votes that will decide today who shall be candidates on the Democratic and Republican city tickets. The primaries will nominate candidates for mayor, city clerk, city judge, three councilmen at large and seven ward councilmen. For these places there are sixty-two candidates in the field, thirty Republicans and twenty-two Democrats.

Woman's Horse Kills Man.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., May 21.—Miss Alice Wilson, very prominent socially, is in a state of collapse following a runaway accident in which the horse which she was driving ran into and killed David Miles, aged eighty-one years, a civil war veteran, who has been a resident of Ft. Wayne since 1864.

Grave Charge Is Lifted.

Tipton, Ind., May 21.—Dr. B. V. Chance of Windfall was acquitted by a jury in the Tipton circuit court after four hours' deliberation on a charge of mistreating Berrel Lancaster, nine-year-old girl. Two other indictments against the physician likely will be dropped.

Reinforcements Needed.

Jackson, Miss., May 21.—Capt. M. B. Herndon and eighteen men of the Capital light guards have left here for Winston county in response to a call for reinforcements to aid the twelve previously dispatched there by Governor Noel to arrest Tom Atkinson, a convict who escaped from the penitentiary twenty years ago, and who defies arrest.

Philippines Demand Independence.

Manila, May 21.—With only slight variation from its action of final adjournment of the session of 1908 the Philippine general assembly, in the closing hour of its session, adopted a second resolution declaring in favor of the independence of the islands.

Deed of Demented Woman.

Chicago, May 21.—Mrs. Ada Haldy, who came to this city with her husband recently from San Antonio, Texas, committed suicide by shooting herself. Haldy said that his wife was demented.

Cuba's Fourth of July.

Havana, May 21.—The seventh anniversary of the establishment of the Cuban republic in 1902, was celebrated with more than the usual enthusiasm yesterday. The principal event of the day was the review at Columbia by President Gomez of the new army. Four thousand infantry and cavalry paraded under command of General Pino Guerrera. They presented a fine appearance and were applauded by several thousand spectators.

An Understanding in Sight.

Detroit, May 21.—That the misunderstandings between the marine unions and the Lake Carriers' association which have resulted in the lake strike might well be reconciled if the two parties would agree to a joint conference, is the conclusion announced by the representatives of the board of arbitration.

Spreckels Was Liberal.

San Francisco, May 21.—In the Calhoun trial, Rudolph Spreckels admitted that he had paid on account of Detective William J. Burns approximately $141,000; that he had paid on account of Prosecutor Heney $23,828, and on account of Charles W. Cobb Mr. Heney's partner, $10,000.

Dr. Barkley Elected Moderator.

Denver, Colo., May 21.—Dr. James M. Barkley, of Detroit, was elected moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, receiving 503 votes against 292 votes for Dr. Edgar P. Hill, of Chicago.

Hopkins Gains Eight Votes.

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—Former Senator Hopkins, with a total of eighty-seven votes, made a gain of nine votes in the joint ballot Thursday. The next joint ballot will be Tuesday.

Charlotte, N. C., May 21.—President Taft came to Charlotte, the home of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, signed in May of 1775, and without entering into the discussion as to the wording of those resolutions of liberty, placed himself squarely on the side of those who look back upon this declaration as one of the first significant steps, which led ultimately to American independence.

In his address to the people of North Carolina later in the day, the president took occasion to explain more fully than he did at Petersburg on Wednesday his policy toward the South. His own recent appointment of a Democrat to the federal branch in this state gave him an opportunity to expand upon his views. Mr. Taft urged again the advisability of an intelligent, logical opposition party.

"I don't believe that we are on the point of a political revolution in the South," said the president. "I never have had such a dream. What I do desire, and believe we are on the eve of, is a complete tolerance of opinion and that there shall grow into respect and power an intelligent fighting opposition party in each state of the Union."

The president's political utterances were received with the same fervor of enthusiasm as his tribute to the signers of the Mecklenburg Declaration. The auditorium where he spoke was crowded to its capacity and he constantly was interrupted by the cheers that rose spontaneously from his Southern hearers. As to his appointments to the bench, the president declared that throughout the South he intended to pursue the policy he already had indicated of appointing to office only that man who, Republican or Democrat, can command the highest confidence and commend himself to the community in which he lives. There was a public reception to the president last night and he left on a late train for Washington.

REFUSED TO PLEAD GUILTY

And Got Four Years Instead of One For Stealing a Diamond.

Louisville, Ky., May 21.—After a bold attempt to rob an execution guest during the progress of a hanging, Harry Jacobstein took one more whirl with fortune and lost. When offered one year in the penitentiary if he would plead guilty, Jacobstein refused. The jury gave him four years. Jacobstein was an "invited guest" at the Carter hanging April 16. Just at the moment that Carter was swung into eternity Jacobstein grabbed a diamond pin from the necktie of William Rott. Policemen saw the bold steal and made Jacobstein a prisoner in the jail of which he was a guest at the time the act was committed.

Distributed Its Attention.

Washington, May 21.—The senate distributed its attention among the three items in the tariff bill providing a duty on an extract of chestnut bark used in tanning, known as quebracho, on cotton seed oil and on white lead. On each of these articles the senate was led by the committee on finance, although the committee was induced to change its original suggestions on both white lead and cotton seed oil, making a slight reduction in each.

DAD'S HOME-COMING.

Pa at last the hallway wins

In the dark,

And instant both his shins

He doth bark.

For the hatrack now, you see,

Isn't where it used to be.

Pa his way doth slowly make;

Has to grope.

Steps upon a mushy cake.

Drat the soap!

Then we hear a heavy fall

Followed by a plaintive call.

Ma a cleaning day has had,

Bless her heart.

But she failed to furnish dad

With a chart.

Fetch a light from overhead;

Let us pilot dad to bed.

BAD STOMACH

Many in Rushville are Being Thoroughly Purified by Mi-o-na, the Guaranteed Cure for Indigestion

People of Rushville who suffer from dyspepsia and other stomach troubles are getting tired of taking preparations containing pepsin, because pepsin simply digests the food artificially. Pepsin relieves, it never cures.

And remember, pepsin only digests animal food; it has no effect on starchy food, such as potatoes, rice, bread, etc.

Mi-o-na cleanses and purifies the stomach and bowels, and tones up and puts energy into the stomach walls, so that they properly mix the food with the natural digestive juices of the stomach.

Mi-o-na tablets quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction, and in a few days it is able to do its work easily and without exertion. There will be no more sour stomach, fermentation of food, dizziness, sick headache, belching of gas, or foul breath.

Mi-o-na only costs 50 cents a large box, and is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co., to cure dyspepsia, sea or car sickness, vomiting of pregnancy, and stomach sickness resulting from over-indulgence of the night before, or money back.

the table and weighted them with five ten-franc pieces. And "That all?" he asked, replacing the pocketbook.

"That will be about all. I leave you presently to your unholy devices, you and that gay dog over there." The captain squirmed, reddening. "Just by way of precaution, however, I'll ask you to wait in here till I'm off." Kirkwood stepped backward to the door of the captain's room, opened it and removed the key from the inside. "Please take Mulready in with you," he continued. "By the time you get out I'll be clear of Antwerp. Please don't think of refusing me. I really mean it."

The latter clause came sharply as Calendar seemed to hesitate, his weary, wary eyes glimmering with doubt. Kirkwood, watching him as a cat her prey, intercepted a lightning swift sidelong glance that shifted from his face to the port lockers, forward. But the fat adventurer was evidently to a considerable degree deluded by the very childlike simplicity of Kirkwood's attitude. If the possibility that his altercation with Mulready had been overheard crossed his mind, Calendar had little choice other than to accept the chance. Either way he moved the risk was great. If he refused to be locked in the captain's room, there was the danger of the police, to which Kirkwood had convincingly drawn attention. If he accepted the temporary imprisonment, he took a risk with the gladstone bag. On the other hand, he had estimated Kirkwood's honesty as thoroughgoing from their first interview. He had appraised him as a gentleman and a man of honor. And he did not believe the young man knew, after all. Perplexed, at length he chose the smoother way and, with an indulgent lifting of eyebrows and fat shoulders, rose and waddled over to Mulready.

"Oh, all right," he conceded, with deep toleration in his tone for the idiosyncrasies of youth; "it's all the same to me, beau." He laughed a nervous laugh. "Come along and lend

"The deuce you are!" Calendar's eyes opened wide, partly in admiration. "D'you realize that this is next door to highway robbery, my young friend?"

"High seas piracy, if you prefer," assented Kirkwood with entire equanimity. "I'm going to have the money, and you're going to give it up. The transaction by any name would smell no sweeter, Calendar. Come—fork over!"

"And if I refuse?"

"I wouldn't refuse if I were you."

"Why not?"

"The consequences would be too painful."

"You mean you'd puncture me with that gun?"

"Not unless you attack or attempt to follow me. I mean to say that the Belgian police are notoriously a most efficient body and that I'll make it my duty and pleasure to introduce 'em to you if you refuse. But you won't," Kirkwood added soothingly, "will you, Calendar?"

"No." The adventurer had become suddenly thoughtful. "No, I won't. Glad to oblige you."

He tilted his chair still farther back, straightening out his elephantine legs, inserted one fat hand into his trousers pocket and with some difficulty extracted a combined bill fold and coin purse, at once heavy with gold and bulky with notes. Moistening thumb and forefinger, "How'll you have it?" he inquired, with a lift of his cunning eyes, and, when Kirkwood had advised him, slowly counted out four fifty-franc notes, placed them near the edge of us a hand, Stryker."

The latter glanced timidly at Kirkwood, his eyes pleading for leave to move, which Kirkwood accorded with an imperative nod and a fine flourish of the revolver. Promptly the captain sprang to Calendar's assistance, and, between the two of them, the one taking Mulready's head, the other his feet, they lugged him quickly into the stuffy little stateroom. Kirkwood, watching and following to the threshold, inserted the key.

"One word more," he counseled, a hand on the knob. "Don't forget I've warned you what'll happen if you try to break even with me."

"Never fear, little one!" Calendar's laugh was nervously cheerful. "The Lord knows you're welcome."

"Thank you most to death," responded Kirkwood politely. "Goodby and goodby to you, Stryker. Glad to have humored your desire to meet me soon again."

CHAPTER XXII.

KIRKWOOD, turning the key in the lock, withdrew it and dropped it on the cabin table. At the same time he swept into his pocket the money he had extorted of Calendar. Then he paused an instant, listening. From the captain's room came a sound of murmurs and scuffling. He crossed to the port locker forward.

He had its lid up in a twinkling and in another had lifted out the well remembered black gladstone bag.

This seems to have been his first compound larceny.

As if stimulated by some such reflection, he sprang for the companionway, dropping the lid of the locker with a bang which must have been excruciatingly edifying to the men in the captain's room. Whatever their emotions, the bang was mocked by a mighty kick, shaking the door, which, Kirkwood reflected, opened outward, was held only by the frailest kind of a lock and would not hold long.

Spurred onward by a storm of curses, Stryker's voice chanting infuriated cacophony with Calendar's, Kirkwood leaped up the companionway even as the second tremendous kick threatened to shatter the panels. Heart in mouth, a chill shiver of guilt running up and down his spine, he gained the deck, cast loose the painter, drew in his row-boat and dropped over the side, then, the gladstone bag nestling between his feet, sat down and bent to the oars.

And doubts assailed him, pressing close upon the ebb of his excitement—doubts and fears innumerable. There was no longer a distinction to be drawn between himself and Calendar; no more could he esteem himself a better and more honest man than that accomplished swindler. He was not advised as to the Belgian code, but English law, he understood, made no allowance for the good intent of those caught in possession of stolen property. Though he was acting with the most honorable motives in the world, the law, if he came within its cognizance, would undoubtedly place him on Calendar's plane and judge him by the same standard. To all intents and purposes he was a thief, and thief he would remain until the gladstone bag with its contents should be restored to its rightful owner.

Voluntarily, then, he had stepped from the ranks of the hunters to those of the hunted. He now feared police interference as abjectly as did Calendar and his set of rogues, and Kirkwood felt wholly warranted in assuming that the adventurer, with his keen intelligence, would not handicap himself by ignoring this point. Indeed, if he were to be judged by what Kirkwood had inferred of his character, Calendar would let nothing whatever hinder him, neither fear of bodily hurt nor danger of apprehension at the hands of the police, from making a determined and savage play to regain possession of his booty.

Well! (Kirkwood set his mouth savagely.) Calendar should have a run for his money!

Lesson VIII.—Second Quarter,
For May 23, 1909.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xv, 1-35.
Memory Verses 28, 29—Golden Text,
Acts xv, 11—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

Then, as now, the whole world lay in the wicked one, and to be a friend of the world meant to be the enemy of God, but from the world here and there God, by His Spirit through His servants, was gathering a people for His name, the church of God which He hath purchased with His own blood (verse 14; chapter xx, 28), a people not of the world whose citizenship is in heaven, strangers and pilgrims here because a part of Him who represents all believers before God. He is the only true center of His church, the heavenly center, but there are many earthly centers, and at the time of our lesson there were two great centers, Jerusalem and Antioch, supposed to be in perfect accord. At the former the apostles still lived, not having been scattered abroad, while the latter became the missionary center from which Paul and the others set forth on their missionary tours. The apostles at Jerusalem were supposed to have the truth on all matters concerning the church, as they had personally known and been intimate with that Lord.

Since the days of Cain there have always been false teachers, perverting the truth, holding down the truth and teaching everything but the truth for various reasons—for self exaltation, to please men, for money, etc.—but sometimes blindly fancying that they were indeed standing for the truth. The following passages show them up quite fully: Isa. xxix, 13; xxx, 9-12; Jer. xxiii, 21, 26; Ezek. xxxiv, 1, 2; Acts xx, 29, 30; II Tim. iv, 3, 4; I Pet. ii, 1-3; Jude 4, 11. The false teachers of our lesson insisted that no one could be saved unless they were circumcised according to the law of Moses, thus teaching that the finished work of Christ was really not finished or not sufficient in itself for salvation, but needed some goodness or obedience on the part of the believer to supplement it. These teachers were believers of some sort (verse 5), but did not understand the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ (verse 11) nor the forgiveness of sin through His blood alone. They did not seem to know that Abraham was saved before he was circumcised and that circumcision was a seal of the righteousness which he already had by faith (Rom. iv, 9-11).

There are many today who do not believe that by virtue of the atonement of the Lord Jesus He is made unto all who receive Him wisdom, righteousness, sanctification and redemption (I Cor. i, 30); that by the deeds of the law no one can be justified in the sight of God, but that Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth (Rom. x, 4). Paul and Barnabas stood for these foundation truths and disputed with the teachers from Judaea about them, but the church at Antioch decided to send Paul and Barnabas and some others to the apostles and elders at Jerusalem about this question (verse 2). On their way they declared the conversion of the gentiles as they had seen on their first tour and thus caused great joy to all the brethren. And when they reached Jerusalem they told to the church there all things that God had done with them (verse 4; compare xiv, 27). It is indeed worth while and a soul uplifting theme to show His wonderful works that He hath done, to talk of all his wondrous

Have Made Many Rushville Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Rushville citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Rushville by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Frank Vredenburg, 211 Jackson street, Rushville, Ind., says: I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills knowing them to be an excellent remedy for weak kidneys. One of my children was afflicted with a kidney weakness and I was told by a physician that nothing could be done. However, when I read that Doan's Kidney Pills were curing other people of similar troubles, I obtained a box at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store. They soon relieved the trouble and at the present time the child is not bothered in the least."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Melburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

works, to declare His doings among the people (Ps. lxxviii, 4; cv, 2; Isa. xli, 4). All else is forgotten as thus we magnify Him and exalt His holy name.

But we must attend the council meeting at Jerusalem, where the apostles and elders and the church have gathered officially to consider the matters about which the delegates have come from Antioch. After much talk and disputing they settle down to business more quietly, and Peter gives his testimony concerning his visit to Caesarea, to the home of Cornelius, and how as they heard the word of the gospel God gave them the Holy Ghost even as He had to the Jews at Pentecost, and he urged upon the council that there is but one salvation for Jew or gentile—namely, by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. Paul and Barnabas then declared the miracles and wonders God had wrought among the gentiles by them. James then summed up the case, and the result is given in the letter of verses 23-29. This letter they send to Antioch by Paul and Barnabas, commending them for their zeal, even to the laying down of their lives if necessary, and with them they send Judas and Silas to confirm the contents of the letter by their personal testimony (verses 25, 26, 27). They condemn the false teaching and set aside circumcision and the keeping of the law as essential to salvation, and they send the letter as not only from them, but from the Holy Ghost (verse 28).

Thus these messengers carried joyful tidings everywhere and great encouragement to simple faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. If the decisions of all church councils were as wise and helpful it would be worth while holding them, but the greater number of them nowadays may be covered by the first line of verse 7 and are too largely a waste of precious time.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week
Beginning May 23, 1909.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.
Topic.—Lessons from the birds and flowers.—Luke xii, 24-28. (Union meeting with the Juniors.)

There is nothing in all the universe that God has made which does not praise Him and teach us useful lessons about Him. The psalmist says,

"The heavens declare the glory of God," and the prophet declares that "He shall be as the dew unto Israel." The greatest and the least works of nature therefore teach us lessons concerning Him. And between them come the birds and the flowers, which teach us many profitable truths.

The one great lesson that Christ in the topical reference teaches us is that of God's watchful care over His people. It is a lesson on divine providence taught by the care which God takes of these lower forms of creation, which are as nothing when compared in value and in importance to man, who was created in God's own image and still retains it, though marred more or less by sin.

1. Christ teaches us a lesson on God's providential care over us through the birds: "Consider the ravens, for they neither sow nor reap, which neither have storehouse nor barn, and God feedeth them. How much more are ye better than the fowls?" The ravens! Of all birds in Palestine they were the most undesirable—about as worthless as the English sparrow in our country. Yet God feeds them, and not one of them falleth to the ground without His notice. How can we doubt God's care for us, His provision for our physical needs, when He thus provides for the least desirable of fowls? Convalescing from an attack of sickness some years ago, I was at an ocean resort in the winter. I arose one morning to find that it had snowed during the night and was cold and dreary. What worse than such a day at the seashore? I felt downhearted and depressed. Suddenly I heard the chattering of birds and, looking out a window, saw an unusual sight.

There were scores of English sparrows eating and chirping on the ground below. I thought of this reference in the Scriptures, pulled myself together, and the blues departed. But I wondered at the provision made for them and inquired about it. I was told that on such days an abundance of food was thrown out on the snowy ground for the sparrows and that they always came for it on bad days. God, through some one's kind heartedness, was feeding the sparrows! Can you doubt him? Need we worry about our future? Never! "The Lord will provide."

2. Christ teaches us a lesson in God's providential care over us through the flowers. "Consider the lilies how they grow. They toil not, they spin not, and yet I say unto you that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like unto one of these. If, then, God so clothe the grass, which is today in the field and tomorrow is cast into the oven, how much more will He clothe you, O ye of little faith!" What a lesson from the lilies for trusting God for clothing and all the necessary material things of life! Only our little faith makes the present or the future seem dark and foreboding when we realize what God has done for the flowers. What we need is more faith and less doubt and worry.

In these two illustrations we are assured that God will provide food, home and raiment for us and what more we ask. Does the millionaire get more? When it's all over and life is ended he has had food and a home and clothing, which the humblest on earth also possesses and which God promises to all His children. He will not feed us with a silver spoon, but will open up the way for our procuring food, and so with all other necessary things. Never doubt Him, only trust Him, and He will bring it to pass.

Samoa and Japan.

The pioneer Christian Endeavor society in Samoa has established sixteen others and has sent from its own number more than 100 missionaries to evangelize other islands, most of them going to the difficult field of New Guinea, where some have already died.

Once the Juniors of the Christian Endeavor orphan asylum in Okayama, Japan, decided to perform at least one Christy act each week and report it. Here is a sample of what they did. Three of the Endeavor girls were out walking when they met some drunken women. They mustered up courage to go to them and beg them to stop drinking. "See what drink has done for us," they pleaded. "It has made us all orphans." The women were moved to tears, poured out on the ground the liquor they were carrying and gave the children $20 as a thank offering.

"Brave Virtue."

A Christian Endeavor Chinese girl was to be married and refused to take part in the usual idolatrous ceremonies, though her relatives struggled with her all of one night. She insisted on observing the Christian Sabbath, and when her mother-in-law would not let her have money enough to pay the ferry fare over to the Endeavor meeting place her Endeavor friends paid the way. At last she started a Christian school in her house, and a church has grown out of it. Her name, translated into English, is "Brave Virtue."

Clear, white clothes are a sign that the house keeper uses Red Cross Ball Blue. Large 2 oz. pkg, 5 cents.

* * *

Mrs. Bert Reeves will entertain the Musicales at her country home next Monday afternoon. It is needless to add that a full attendance will be on hand as such affairs are always pleasant ones.

* * *

The young women of the Social club entertained with a dinner-dance at the club house last evening. Among the out-of-town guests were Will Doyle and Ed Doll of Connersville and Mrs. Leonard Harbach and Mrs. Nelle Hewitt of Des Moines, Iowa.

* * *

The teachers of the Jackson school pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. Ed Billings at their home in East Eighth street last night, the occasion being their twentieth wedding anniversary. The teachers presented Mr. and Mrs. Billings with a beautiful set of Haviland china dishes. Refreshments were served during the evening.

OUT IN THE COUNTRY.

The clean up spirit has taken hold on the farmers in several communities and good results have come from it. Each farmer gets busy and goes along the road adjoining his farm, gathering up the sticks, stones and other objects that have no purpose there, into piles and later hauls them away. The great change resulting therefrom improves the condition for travel and is most pleasing to the eye.

REMEMBER IT.

In the year Indiana became a State it is said that there were three inches of snow fell in June and that it froze so hard in August that ice formed on the ponds.

Plumbers are installing a sanitary drinking fountain today which will be a new innovation for five cent shows.

YOUNG BRITON IS ILL IN THIS CITY

Young Man Left His Home in Liverpool, England a Few Weeks Ago.

FOUGHT IN THE BOER WAR

Rather pitiable is the condition of Robert Dean, a young man who but a few weeks ago left his home in Liverpool, England, and who now lies critically ill at a boarding house in East Seventh street, threatened with appendicitis. Dean left his England home to make a bid for fortune and fame in the United States and after his arrival in New York City, came west, stopping at several points. On his arrival in Rushville about a month ago, he met Stewart Beale, who volunteered to assist him. Beale secured a position for the young man and he was getting on fine. He liked Rushville and he liked the people.

Young Dean is an interesting character and for one of his age—twenty-three—has had a deal of experience. He served one year with the English army during the Boer war and recounts many exciting war tales of the struggle in South Africa.

NOW MILROY WILL BE A WET TOWN

Lumber Company Will Install System For Sprinkling Purposes.

MERCHANTS TO "TAKE WATER"

The Greer-Wilkinson Lumber Co. are going ahead with the arrangement of erecting a tank tower large enough to supply water for the town says the Milroy Press. They have the plans here and are to have it in operation by June first.

The tank will give a pressure of 40 pounds which is sufficient for all sprinkling purposes here. Everybody on Main street, with the exception of possibly two men have agreed to use the water. It looks now as though we would be able to keep down the dust this summer.
